About FM Institute

FM Institute is an Oil & Gas technical training platform created to bridge the gap between education and industry requirements.

We understand that many freshers and job seekers struggle because they do not know:

- Which role is suitable for them
- What skills companies expect
- How Oil & Gas site jobs actually work
- How to prepare for interviews and overseas opportunities

FM Institute was established to solve this problem. We provide practical, easy-to-understand, industry-focused training that helps candidates gain clarity, confidence, and job readiness. Our learning model is designed to allow candidates to learn conveniently through mobile-based access, without disturbing their current routine.

Key Focus Areas

- Oil & Gas career guidance
- Technical training for entry-level and job-oriented roles
- Site-based practical understanding
- Interview preparation
- Industry awareness
- Skill development for fresher and experienced candidates

Objective

To make Oil & Gas education more accessible, practical, and employment-focused for aspiring candidates.

About FM International Placement Services

FM International Placement Services is the placement and recruitment division of FM Groups of Company. We focus on identifying suitable candidates and connecting them with real job opportunities in India and abroad. Our process is designed to support both employers and job seekers with professionalism, clarity, and coordination.

We work towards making recruitment smoother by helping candidates with:

- Job opportunity updates
- Profile screening
- Interview coordination
- Document guidance
- Employer requirements understanding
- Placement process support

Core Strength

We do not just forward candidates for jobs — we prepare and guide them with a better understanding of role expectations and employer standards.

Placement Focus

- Overseas recruitment support
- Gulf job opportunities
- Technical manpower support
- Industrial and shutdown project requirements
- Fresher and experienced candidate processing

Why Clients Can Trust FM Groups

Industry-Focused Approach: We are focused on one of the world’s most important sectors — Oil & Gas — and our services are aligned with real job market needs.

Training + Placement Model: Unlike many organizations that only train or only recruit, FM Groups works on both sides: we help candidates become job-ready and also support them in reaching the right opportunities.

Practical Career Guidance: We guide candidates based on role suitability, industry demand, and career growth potential.

Professional Support System: From first-level counselling to placement process support, our approach is structured, responsive, and candidate-focused.

Long-Term Vision: Our aim is not only to train or place candidates, but to build a strong ecosystem of skilled manpower for the industry.
